

26 March 2021

Watawieh yorlyi and welcome to all our visitors,

Media Coverage - Anthony Dennis.

Anthony Dennis, Travel Editor of Traveller (print and digital) for the Sydney Morning Herald and the Age, visited for a media famil 24-27 February with his partner Inge Hoist. Anthony is one of Australia's most experienced travel and tourism editors and is the author of two travel books.

To quote part of Anthony's The Editor column from the Sydney Morning Herald published 20 March; "And even though we can't travel overseas (unless, that is you're a politician, a film star or billionaire) there is one magical and under-valued destination I've visited recently that manages to provide something akin to an overseas experience. I refer, of course, to Norfolk Island. I won't say how long it's taken me to get there for my first visit but I can confirm it was immensely worthwhile and can highly recommend a visit"
