

25 YEARS OF TOURISM DEDICATION

How does someone stay in the same job for 25 years?

On Norfolk Island there are plenty of ways to find work, especially with the continual and various positions on offer in the hospitality and tourism industry, and knowing all the business owners, which is another great way to hear about job opportunities.

To work in the same place for that long you must really love your job, which is obvious when it comes to Tania Anderson - who clocked up 25 years working for Norfolk Island Tourism last week! On 27 May 1997, Tania started out in a role that she thought was temporary. With a natural talent for customer service, a born-and-bred passion for the island's tourism industry, and one of the biggest and friendliest smiles you will find on the island, Tania is still here to this day.

Over the years, Tania has proved her dependability and her trustworthiness and we know we can rely on her one hundred percent. She is an excellent worker who is loyal to her job. By remaining in her position for so long, she has built extremely solid relationships with stakeholders and is an invaluable member of our team. She is versatile, reliable, and the best communicator. Oh, and have we mentioned her amazing social media skills?

You will be pleased to know that we celebrated Tania's 25th anniversary with a simple staff morning tea, because she "doesn't like a fuss", and we managed to present her with a lovely gift from the Tourism staff.

Congratulations Tania on your Silver Anniversary! Thaenks f' aklan
