
April Special Edition Newsletter a great guide to Draft Plan and Budget

Norfolk Island Regional Council would like to remind the community that the Draft 2023-24 Operational Plan and Budget is still on public exhibition and that Council's April Special Edition newsletter provides a useful guide to the Plan and Budget.

Accessible from the front page of Council's website, the April Special Edition newsletter provides further context to the draft Plan and Budget.

Norfolk Island Regional Council Administrator, Michael Colreavy, says the special edition newsletter is a great resource for people who don't have the time to read through the full version of the draft Plan and Budget.

"We recognise that a lot of people want to provide feedback on the draft Plan and Budget but may not have the time to read full the version, the special edition newsletter provides a handy summary," Mr Colreavy said.

"I'd encourage everyone who wants more information on the draft Plan and Budget to have a read through the newsletter, it provides a lot of great information on the draft Plan and Budget, especially around waste management.

"It also provides a great breakdown on where the rates are coming from and how they will be spent to benefit the community."

The draft 2023-24 Operational Plan and Budget remains on public exhibition until Thursday 1 June 2023 with the deadline for written submissions being 4:00pm that day.

Written submissions can be emailed to Council or sent by mail.

The full version of the draft 2023-24 Operational Plan and Budget can be viewed on Council's website or Customer Care and the Library where a hard copy is available.

Public Access with Council's Administrator will be available over two days on Tuesday 27 June and Wednesday 28 June 2023 for up to 10 minutes per person.
